About the father of psychoanalysis and, undoubtedly, not only psychologists know the brightest person, but everyone who is not indifferent to the history of modernity. Not so long ago, the book of the famous art critic Sebastian media was released in our country three years ago, in which the author outlined four stories about leading artists in 19-20x centuries, whose friendship and rivalry mutually influenced their creativity. One of the stories touched upon the difficult relationship of Lucien Freud and Francis Bacon. The fact that the famous artist grandson of the Sigmund Freud himself, I, confess, learned quite recently. In this connection, it became very interested in how the fate of the descendants of Freud was developed and what of them, even if they did not reach the glory of the ancestor, but still they could become famous in one way or another. The thought came, share a small information that I collected.

Anna Freud.

The most famous descendant of Freud is perhaps Anna Freud his youngest daughter and a sequence, the founder of children's psychoanalysis. At the beginning of the 40s, Anna Freud founded a Hampsted clinic in the UK (London), and in 50s he opened a children's clinic and children's therapeutic courses. At sunset, Anna worked at the University of Yale University. Freud's daughter was not married and she also did not have children, all his life dedicated to science.

Lucien Freud.

The second famous figure is directly Lucien Freud's grandson Sigmund Freud, whose portraits were distinguished by psychologism, and the manner broke all the stereotypes of academic painting. Later, he became a popular master who lived a long life and managed to write even a couple of portraits naked Kate Moss. The character of the artist was distinguished by wild unbridles, and friendship with another descendant of the famous figure of the 20th century by the artist Francis Bacon, Ranking went far beyond friendship. Lucien was married to the writer Carolina Blackwood, with which they met on the ball at Ann Rotimer (the wife of Jan Fleming, the author of the famous bondiad), which Fleming is unreasonable to him jealous. However, the artist had many children from different ties.

There are different photos of Lucien photo, but I especially liked the work of my beloved Rock photographer Anton Corbane (U 2, David Bowie, Johnny Depp, Nirvana, etc.)

Ernst Freud.

Not me is known and Father Lucien Ernst Freud (the fourth son of Sigmund). Ernst was a famous architect who worked at the trend-style AR-Deco. Basically, his orders concerned consultation books and houses (for example, Belvedere Court and the Cabinet for Melanie Klein). House in Hampstead, where the Freud Museum is located, by the way, he designed precisely.

Jane Makadam Freud

Jane Freud Grandmother Sigmund and daughter Lucien Freud. She went in the footsteps of her father and became a famous conceptual sculptor. At the moment, it works in the field of installation art, as well as digital media. And she was the winner of the European Premium of the demand for art achievements of 2014! An artist, by the way, became another Maiden Freud Paul Freud.

Bella Freud.

Another greatness of Sigmund became a rather famous British fashion designer. Under its brand, not only clothing, but also perfumery. She is the wife of the popular journalist James Fox (co-author of the recent best-selling life - Memoirov China Richards, guitarist Rolling Stones group).

Esther Freud.

Bella's sister and another daughter Lucien Freud. Became a famous novelist. Previously starred in the cinema (for example, in some series of the doctor's show who). He is the wife of the famous actor and director David Morrisi (Devil's lawyer, Poirot Agatha Christie Blackpool and others).

Clement Freud.

Virtual Zigmund and Brother Lucien Freud. Clement Freud Famous British Worker, Radio-General, Children's Writer and Politician.
